

I am a passionate motivational speaker, best selling author and believer in the positive power of YOU.

Samantha "Sammy D" Davis is a motivational speaker on the power of positive thinking with the goal to empower all women to feel beautiful, powerful, and special.

Sammy Davis

Not just an encourager and just not an enthusiast:
But an empowerer of your positive energy for your positive creation today.

At the age of 23, I left what I thought was my dream job to pursue the road less traveled, and I've never looked back. By 25, I had co-founded my first business - Sammy Davis Vintage - a digital platform for authentic self expression through secondhand style. Hundreds of thousands of pageviews, video plays on YouTube and appearances in national and local media for my work later, and I decided to close that chapter and open another through my work as a positive energy evangelist.

While my journey thus far has never been easy, it's always been worth it. My most important lesson? What you believe, you achieve, and maintaining a positive vibration is all you need to live, love and learn every step of the way.

☆ I am a powerful woman with a mission to serve.

I am a motivational speaker on the power of positive thinking. My life's purpose is to empower all women to remember no matter the circumstances of their lives, that they have a choice to believe in themselves.

I teach the power of positive energy to help transform how people view themselves, view the world and ultimately, understand how to shape a personal reality which allows them to feel good about who they are and what they can do now.

☆ I am a special woman with a voice to inspire.

I am a passionate writer and author with a commitment to helping people transform themselves from within. My second book, LOVE YOUR LIFE!, is a best-selling transformational workbook showing readers how to "change the way they look at things so the things they look at change." The book's 7 chapters and dozens of exercises dive deep into the tenets of positive thinking and law of attraction to create a purpose-driven life they love.

In 2012, I founded the viral social media campaign for daily declarations of self-love and motivation, #lipstickaffirmations, which reaches thousands of people daily via Instagram, Facebook, Twitter and YouTube. These affirmations are "sealed with a kiss" to help women connect and feel empowered by who they are and can choose to be in any moment of their powerful, beautiful, special lives.

☆ I am a beautiful woman with a story, a struggle, a success.

In 2009 I left my corporate magazine publishing job with a top-ranked newsstand magazine. At age 23, my spirit called me to do the impossible and leave behind this dream career I had tirelessly worked for in college.

My heart heard the call and I couldn't not answer. And today, when speaking with women about their passion and their purpose, I can empathize with - but will never enable - their fears to "take the leap of faith" toward more authentically living their truths as inspired spirits here to connect and give love to the world through the work they do.

We are each more powerful, beautiful and special than we think.

I am a public speaker with a passion for authenticity and vulnerability to enrich, enlighten and engage an audience to confidently step into the power that is their positive energy and outlook on life.

I never hesitate going deep and getting a little dirty with the sharing of my truth, because it is when we open up about our own personal journey that we give others permission to do so and create space for their own healing and empowerment.

I arrive to speaking engagements lovingly armed with spark, spunk and a seriously infectious energy. My keynotes, talks and lectures are evergreen for the energy, enthusiasm and excitement they consistently present to audiences who wish to feel unstoppable and on fire in all that they experience and are set out to create in their lives.
